

Do You Know the Symptoms of Macular Degeneration?

Macular degeneration reduces vision in the central part of the retina. It usually does not affect the eye's side, or peripheral, vision.

If you notice words looking blurry on a page, a dark or empty area in the center of your vision, or crookedness of straight lines, you may have symptoms of macular degeneration.

To learn more about this critical topic or to schedule an appointment, contact your eye care professional today.

HAWTHORNE EYE ASSOCIATES, P.A.
336-768-4140